

Nori Juba

Nori Juba has been a member of the Board of Directors for Bend-Schools since 2005 and is currently serving as Chairman for the Board.

Juba is actively involved in local and state level work to support education. He currently serves on The Board of Directors for AVID, the Construction Committee and is a part of the planning committees for building new schools, OSBA Finance Committee and the Chalkboard Advisory Council.

Juba has previously been appointed by the Governor to serve on the Oregon Education Investment Team, Higher Education Coordinating Commission and the Accelerated Learning Committee.

Juba is a parent of two, and during the past years on the school board he has continuously fought for what he believes is right for children.

As a board member, Juba is proud of the work done by Bend-La Pine Schools to raise student achievement despite declining resources. He is committed to building relationships, encouraging rigor and rethinking relevance in educating our children.
